DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: (1) applicant is requested to update the status of the co-pending application mentioned in paragraph 0065; and (2) #111 (paragraph 0079, lines 2 and 4 and paragraph 0080, line 2) should be changed to #11 as there is no #111 in figures 6-7.

Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-5 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8 of copending Application No. 10/660,939. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the other application essentially fully encompass and anticipate the claims of this application with the differences between them being essentially mere differences in terminology used to define the same basic elements.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1,2,5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Morad (USP 5,509,163). The patent to Morad discloses a twist mop (10) comprising a shaft (12) having an operator end and a cleaning end, an operating member (18), mop element (16), an indexing surface (64) disposed on a portion of the shaft and having the cross-section shape of a regular polygon and further including at least one indexing arm (20) on the operating member and engaging the indexing surface.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 3,4 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morad (USP 5,509,164). The patent to Morad discloses the invention substantially as claimed with the exception of (1) the indexing surface being on a sleeve, (2) the indexing surface being octagonal and (3) there being four indexing arms. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to have, instead of making the indexing surface integral with the shaft, since it has been held that construction a formerly integral structure in various elements involves only routine skill in the art. Nerwin v. Erlichman, 168 USPQ 177, 179. The modification of the shape of the indexing surface of the shaft and the shape of the cooperating indexing arm would be obvious to one of ordinary skill depending on the number of incremental positions desired for the operating member. The provision of plural indexing arms per se would amount to an obvious duplication of parts.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited patents are further pertinent to twist mops.
